

Building a Foundation for Your Investing Journey

Ah, the beauty of compounding interest.

Most of us have a tough time truly grasping the long-term impact of small, consistent habits—whether that’s eating healthy, going to the gym, or investing. But it’s those small steps done consistently over time that often lead to the most powerful results.

In this article, I want to help simplify where to start on your investing journey. My goal isn’t to give you a one-size-fits-all blueprint, but to offer a general outline that can point you in the right direction. Everyone’s situation is different—so before making any financial decisions, always talk to a financial professional. That said, let’s dive in.

Step 1: Your Savings Foundation

Before we talk about investing, let’s talk about saving. You’ve probably heard of a few different types of savings accounts, but let’s break them down:

- Standard Bank Savings Account: Easy to access but typically offers the lowest interest rate (often less than 1%). It’s safe and liquid but not ideal for long-term growth.
- Money Market Account: These usually offer slightly higher interest rates than regular savings accounts and may come with check-writing or debit card privileges. Still very low risk and easily accessible.
- High-Yield Savings Account: Usually offered by online banks, these accounts can offer significantly higher interest rates than traditional banks. Great for emergency savings.

My general rule of thumb? Aim to have 6–12 months of your monthly expenses saved in one of these accounts. This helps create a cushion in case of job loss, emergencies, or other unexpected life events. If you’re more conservative or have dependents, you might consider a higher amount—but that’s a decision best made with a financial professional.

Step 2: Employer-Sponsored Retirement Plans (401(k), 403(b), etc.)

Next up—those beautiful 401(k)s.

If your employer offers a retirement plan, this can be one of the most effective ways to start building long-term wealth. Why? Employer match. This is essentially free money—a benefit of simply being part of your company.

Even if you’re not ready to max out contributions, at least contribute enough to receive the full match. It’s a great starting point and can make a meaningful difference over time thanks to—you guessed it—compounding interest.

Step 3: IRAs (Traditional and Roth)

Once you’ve got your savings foundation and are contributing to your employer plan, it might be time to explore Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs), another powerful tool with some great tax advantages.

- Traditional IRA: Contributions may be tax-deductible (depending on your income and whether you have access to a retirement plan at work). The investments grow tax-deferred, meaning you don’t pay taxes until you withdraw in retirement.
- Roth IRA: Contributions are made with after-tax dollars, but your investments grow tax-free. That means when you retire, you won’t owe taxes on your withdrawals—huge benefit if you expect to be in a higher tax bracket later on.

The right choice depends on your income level, tax situation, and long-term goals. But either option helps you diversify how your retirement money is taxed, which can be really valuable down the road.

Building a Foundation for Your Investing Journey

Step 4: Brokerage Accounts and Other Investments

Once your retirement and emergency savings bases are covered, you may want to explore taxable brokerage accounts. These accounts don't offer the same tax benefits as retirement accounts, but they give you flexibility and control.

Here, you can invest in individual stocks, ETFs, mutual funds—or even dip your toes into alternative investments like crypto. Because these accounts aren't restricted by age or income limits, they offer a level of freedom that retirement accounts don't.

I often describe brokerage accounts as a place where you can be a bit more hands-on. Whether you're investing in companies you believe in, exploring new sectors, or just learning how the market works, this bucket adds an important layer to your over-all strategy.

Why Having Different Buckets Matters

Having money spread across different accounts, your savings, retirement, IRAs, and brokerage—isn't just good organization. It's a strategy.

Each bucket serves a purpose:

- Savings for short-term needs and emergencies.
- Retirement plans and IRAs for long-term, tax-advantaged growth.
- Brokerage accounts for flexibility and supplemental investing.

Diversifying where your money lives helps protect you from risk, creates tax efficiencies, and gives you options—now and in the future.

Final Thoughts

Finances can be overwhelming, I get it. That's why I do what I do.

My job is to help people make sense of all this and create strategies that align with their specific goals and values. While this guide is meant to be a helpful starting point, it's not a substitute for personalized advice. Everyone's situation is unique, and what works for one person might not be right for you.

But if this post helps spark a little more clarity or confidence in your financial journey, then I've done my job.

Start small. Be consistent. And remember you don't have to go alone.

Written by Blake McDaniel, Investment Associate, Financial Planning Team
NovaPoint – Financial Planning and Wealth Management

To learn more about these topics and our investment strategies, call us at 404-445-7885 or contact us here.

Do you understand your personal investment risk tolerance and the risk of your current portfolio? You can learn these by taking our Risk Analysis Questionnaire.

The NovaPoint Team

Joseph Sroka, CFA, CMT / Chief Investment Officer / jsroka@novapointgroup.com

Joe has over 20 years of experience in the investment management industry. Prior to founding NovaPoint, he was a portfolio manager at Spectrum Advisory Services and GMT Capital in Atlanta, and Epoch Investment Partners in New York. He has also worked as an equity research analyst at Merrill Lynch and ABN Amro. Before beginning his investment career, Joe was an Infantry officer in the U.S. Army. Joe holds a BS from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and an MBA from the University of Chicago. He is both a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) and a Chartered Market Technician (CMT).

Alan J. Conner / President and Chief Compliance Officer / aconner@novapointgroup.com

Alan has over 20 years of experience in the investment management industry. Prior to founding NovaPoint, he was a fixed income manager at both Spectrum Advisory Services and a private family office. Alan was also with the Bank Group division of Countrywide Capital Markets where he developed balance sheet strategies for depository institutions. He holds a BS in Banking and an MBA in Finance from Nova Southeastern University. Alan is an endurance athlete and three-time IRONMAN finisher.

Frederick Wright, CFA / Managing Director & Portfolio Manager / fwright@novapointgroup.com

Frederick has over 30 years of experience in the investment management industry. Prior to joining NovaPoint, Frederick was a Partner and Investment Advisor at Brightworth where he advised high net worth investors. Frederick began his investment career in 1991 at Balentine & Co where he rose to Partner. He also co-founded and served as Chief Investment Officer at Wright Investment Management and at Smith & Howard Wealth Management. Prior to beginning his investment career, Frederick served as an Engineer officer in the U.S. Army. He holds a BS from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and an MBA from Emory University. Frederick is a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA).

Larry Dixon, EA / Tax Managing Partner / ldixon@novapointgroup.com

Larry leads NovaPoint's accounting, tax and outsourced CFO business. He built his previous company, Atlas Solutions, as a solo entrepreneur before merging into NovaPoint CFO. Larry began his career as a Field Artillery officer in the United States Army. Larry earned his Bachelor of Science degree from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, where he was a four-year letterman on the football team. Larry is a certified Enrolled Agent, recognized by the U.S. Department of the Treasury to represent taxpayers before the Internal Revenue Service.

Meghan Hoover / Investment Associate / mhoover@novapointgroup.com

Meghan is an Investment Associate focusing on financial planning. Prior to joining NovaPoint, Meghan spent 18 years in government service as an Operations Officer in military intelligence. She holds two Bachelor of Science degrees from the University of Maryland and a Master of Science from the Joint Military Intelligence College. Meghan has additional education specializing in financial planning and is a member of the Financial Planning Association.

Blake McDaniel / Investment Associate / bmcdaniel@novapointgroup.com

Blake is an Investment Associate focusing on financial planning. Prior to joining NovaPoint, Blake served in the United States Army with 7th Special Forces Group, specializing in intelligence. Following his service, he worked as a financial planner in Atlanta. Blake has a Bachelor's degree in business administration and analytics from the American Military University and a Bachelor's degree in finance from Georgia State University.

NovaPoint Capital LLC (referred to herein as "NovaPoint" or "the Company") is registered with the SEC as an investment adviser, but registration does not imply any certain level of skill or training. The information contained in this document has not been filed with, reviewed by or approved by any regulatory or self-regulatory authority.

Not an offer of advisory services or securities: This document is limited to the dissemination of general information about the services provided by the Company and is provided for informational purposes only. This document is intended for residents of the United States only and the information contained herein does not constitute an offering of advisory services or an offer to sell or solicitation to buy any securities or other financial instruments in any jurisdiction in which such offer or solicitation, purchase or sale would be unlawful under the securities, or other applicable laws of such jurisdiction. Nothing contained in this document constitutes tax, legal or investment advice. Responses to any inquiry which may involve the rendering of personalized investment advice for compensation or effecting or attempting to effect transactions in securities will not be made absent compliance with state broker-dealer, investment adviser, broker-dealer agent or investment adviser representative registration requirements, or applicable exemptions or exclusions from such requirements.

Investment risk: The Company makes no representation, and it should not be assumed, that past investment performance is any indication of future results. Moreover, wherever there is the potential for profit there also is the possibility of loss. Certain of the Company's strategies may involve investments that are illiquid, are subject to a substantial risk of loss and are not suitable for certain investors.

Limitation of liability: While the Company uses reasonable efforts to include accurate and up-to-date information in this document, errors or omissions sometimes occur. The Company makes no warranties or representations as to the accuracy of this document. Opinions expressed herein are subject to change without notice. Under no circumstances shall the Company or any party involved in creating, producing, or delivering this document be liable for any direct, incidental, consequential, indirect, or punitive damages that result from the use of the information contained in this document, even if the Company's authorized representative has been advised of the possibility of such damages. Applicable law may not allow the limitation or exclusion of liability or incidental or consequential damages, so the above limitation or exclusion may not apply to you.

Trademarks and copyrights: All trademarks, service marks, trade names, logos, and icons are proprietary to the Company. Nothing contained in this document should be construed as granting, by implication, estoppel, or otherwise, any license or right to use any trademark displayed in this document without the prior written permission of the Company or such third party that may own the trademarks displayed in this document. Your use of the trademarks displayed in this document, or any other content in this document, except as provided herein, is strictly prohibited.