Investment Strategy:

The NovaPoint Capital Growth Equity Strategy seeks to outperform its benchmarks on a total return basis. We work to identify companies with above average growth and fundamental factors to sustain that growth. Investing in these companies should offer greater total return potential even if they experience greater volatility over shorter periods of time. The Strategy is very focused and only owns 15 to 25 stocks and has no rigid boundaries on sector allocation. A combination of fundamental, quantitative, and technical analysis factors support investment selection.
